> WALKTHROUGH (CONTINUED), COORDINATOR AND ROLLS

3 THE RULES OF THE “DISCIPLINARY SESSION” – monitors 1 to 4, room B-7

The instructor scrolls through the wall monitors (at the bottom: QUESTIONS: NOT AUTHORIZED) and dodges every question (p. 3). Header DISCIPLINARY SESSION · ALIEN INTRUSION PROTOCOL: “Session ordered by the Security Directorate.” The four panels are those of the training: starting position, moves (W.Y.C. card), sealing (a xenomorph is introduced into the sealed room), end of session (eight sealings; only those in the last open room survive). Signature: “Trust your instincts, Agents.”

4 THE GAME ON THE MAP – eight sealings · events p. 3

“Please proceed to the room of your choice.” D.R. picks his starting room. At each step, the Coordinator draws a W.Y.C. card and announces the number of moves; the player moves his pawn; the Coordinator checks his paper protocol sheet, announces “Sealing in progress.” and taps on the map the room to seal. He doesn't comment, justify or improvise anything.

5 END – Security Directorate report

The app displays THE INFILTRATOR SURVIVED (with a decrypted C.R.F. message) or SANCTION ENFORCED. Read the report in a neutral voice, then play the epilogue (p. 4).

04 · PLAYING THE COORDINATOR

he knows everything

Halvorsen received the intercepted copy “for execution”. He knows who D.R. is and what he copied. He gives nothing away: he calls him “Agent” like the others, keeps his voice flat, doesn't look at him.

- “Please proceed to the room of your choice.”
- “Sealing in progress.”
- “I follow company protocol.”
- “No exemptions are provided for, Agent.”
- He follows his paper protocol sheets, period. No favors, no vendetta.
- If D.R. accuses him: a silence, then the next line.
- Reading his face: D.R.'s Mental (3) vs. Halvorsen's Social (2, advantage from Discipline [redacted]). Even if beaten, he shows only a fleeting unease.

05 · 3D6 SYSTÈME ROLLS

ideas

- Mental, Average (2), to keep his composure on seeing the INTERCEPTED stamp; advantage from Meditation. Failure: -1 EP and a tremor the other agents notice.
- Infiltration: Physical, Average (2), advantage, to approach the terminal unseen (variant without Brutes, p. 3).
- Investigation: Mental, Easy (1), advantage, to notice the send time (23:47): intercepted that same night; rank 2 (1 EP): his attachments are in their hands.
- Mental, Average (2), to sense a presence behind a bulkhead, each time an adjacent room is sealed. Failure: -1 EP.
- Meditation without NS-X III: at 3 EP or less, his FLAW gives disadvantage on Mental; a successful Meditation (Mental, Average) cancels it for the scene.
- EP: 1-2 weakened (disadvantage); at 0 he collapses but the required moves are still owed: he crawls, disadvantage on every test.
- The dice color the story; they never change the moves or the sealings.

3D6 SYSTÈME: roll 3D6; each die ≤ the tested attribute (Physical, Mental or Social, from 1 to 5) = 1 success · difficulty = successes required: Easy 1, Average 2, Hard 3, Extreme 4 · advantage = 4D6, disadvantage = 2D6 (all dice count; no stacking, one cancels the other) · triple (111…666): ≤ attribute = critical success, > attribute = critical failure · opposed test: most successes wins (tie: reroll, advantage to the player, or draw) · mastery: rank 1 = advantage, rank 2 = narrative effect (often 1 EP), rank 3 = major effect · EP = Physical + Mental.

06 · THE BRIEFING ROOM

B-7

Setup: the app's intro screens are the wall monitors of room B-7. The Supervisor holds the device facing the player like a monitor; the instructor (the Coordinator) stands beside it and scrolls through the screens. Rules monitors 1 to 4 show at the bottom QUESTIONS: NOT AUTHORIZED.

The player sits among three other Agents in disciplinary session, the “silhouettes”. They don't know D.R. is the target: each believes they are being punished for a minor offense.

- Pike, the nervous one – “Disciplinary? I didn't do anything!” – “Your question is noted.”
- Brannigan, the braggart – “This is a punishment? A stroll.” “Who ordered the session?” – “That point is not covered by procedure.”
- Okoye, the silent one – watches D.R. a little too long. Does she know something? No: she's scared, like the others.

Use: they ask the questions the player doesn't dare to, and get shut down; the player thus gauges the wall he's up against. They give D.R. a chance to test his cover (Social, Discipline). During the game, their fate stays offscreen.

The Brutes: Sgt Voss and Cpl Brekke, Security Directorate (role cards; lines in the Supervisor Aid). They bring D.R. to B-7 – “Lieutenant D.R. Come with us. Your belongings. The NS-X III too.” – then stand beside him, arms crossed, from start to finish, saying nothing beyond “Eyes on the screen, Agent.” If he tries to leave: “Stay seated, Agent.” (opposed Physical, Voss 4, Brekke 4). Their presence tells the silhouettes that one of the four is the target, without saying which. The “approach the terminal unseen” variant (p. 2) is played without Brutes: D.R. is not yet under guard when he finds the copy.

07 · THE INSTRUCTOR DODGES

zero answers

- “It's all on the screen.”
- “Next question.”
- “That point will be covered during the session.”
- “The company has already answered.”
- “Look at screen 3.”
- “Your question is noted.”
- “That point is not covered by procedure.”
- “Next screen.”
- “I am not authorized to answer.”
- “Sit down, Agent.”

Prying out a clue: Social test, difficulty Hard (3), or Extreme (4) if the question concerns the protocol. Advantage if the player draws on a useful mastery or on a silhouette who has just pushed; disadvantage if he has already been shut down or if he interrupts the instructor.

What you get: a clue for atmosphere, never game information. For example: a brief glance at the floor, a burn scar on the hand, “Stay calm: that's all that matters.” Nothing about the sealing order or the protocol: the instructor follows his paper protocol sheets, period.

SESSION EVENTS

at fixed turns · the protocol plays no part

- Sealing 3 – the envelope. A security officer enters the control room and hands Halvorsen an envelope; he reads it, puts it away and announces the sealing without a change in his voice. Investigation (Mental, Average): D.R. reads “…seven-B…” on his lips; failure: -1 EP.
- Sealing 5 – withdrawal. The NS-X III is wearing off: tremor, cold sweat, and in the crackle of the loudspeaker D.R. thinks he hears his own voice: “Prepare the extraction.” Meditation (Mental, Average); failure: -1 EP and disadvantage until the next sealing.
- Sealing 7 – the open mic. Halvorsen forgot to cut his microphone; another voice, offscreen: “He's still alive.” – “Then prepare 7-B.” Click. The Coordinator announces the eighth sealing as if nothing had been said.

These scenes are played between two sealings: they change neither the W.Y.C. card drawn, nor the sealed room, nor the protocol sheet.
